The Medicine Profession Adopts Resolutions

OF RESPECT AND CONDOLENCE

Over the Death of the Late Dr. Shepard at a Meeting Held Last Evening.

At a numerously attended meeting of the medical profession of this city held last evening to take suitable action on the death of Dr. Charles C. Shepard, a committee appointed for the purpose reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Dr. Charles C. Resolved, That the medical profession has lost an able, honorable and conscientious surgeon and physician, whose professional record is above reproach, whose honesty was unquestioned, whose simplicity and frankness were genuine. That the community has lost an ideal citizen, who has been identified with its interests for more than half a century and who has filled positions of honor and trust with credit, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we express to the family and friends of the late Dr. Charles Shepard our admiration of his sterling and all things pertaining to a worthy representation of the true physician, and our sincere sympathy with those in their great bereavement; be it also

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the late Dr. Shepard and also copies furnished to the state medical journals and the local press.

Nothing to Be Desired

Every Flavor made by Dr. Price has the peculiar taste characteristic of the fruit from which it is obtained, and imparts to cakes, puddings, sauces or creams such a delicious and grateful flavor that their use really leaves nothing to be desired. We have yet to see the housewife who has used Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts of Lemon, Orange, Nutmeg or Vanilla, who was not delighted with them. THE PURITY OF DR. PRICE'S FLAVORING is evidenced by the leading chemists and heads of the great universities of this continent.

Funeral of Frank C. Braun.

The funeral of Frank C. Braun was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon under the auspices of Grand River lodge No. 31, P. A. M. at St. Mark's church. The procession formed at The Hermitage, his late residence, headed by Wurzburger's band, of which the deceased was a member, and members of the Typographical union on foot, and went up Canal and Monroe streets to St. Mark's church, where the funeral services were to be performed. At the church brief ceremonies were pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Vincent, who is filling the position of the Rev. D. Fair during his absence from the city. The floral tributes were profuse and of pretty and appropriate designs. Among them were a floral composing stick, presented by the Stanton Printing company, and a beautiful lamp by the Musicians union. The remains were carried to the vault in the Valley City cemetery by Eber Rice, H. J. Aikin, Edwin Herrington, William Henson, Frank Frankfort and Oscar Wells. The masonic burial services were read at the cemetery by Past Master John Peterson. Next week the body will be taken to Cape Vincent, N. Y., his former home, for burial.

Cowles vs. Moody.

Albert Rietberg, clerk of the city poor department, said to a reporter for THE HERALD yesterday that Wood Contractor Cowles is only venting his spite against Moody because Moody insists on honest dealing with the city.

"Cowles is a pretty man to criticize the poor director," said he. "Look at those pieces of shrapnel there! Those are samples of what he delivers as good wood, and short measure at that. It has been reported to the committee on poor over and over again."

"Alderman Dunton is all right about it, but Alderman Gervens and Gilden seem to favor Cowles right along. Perhaps it makes a difference because Cowles belongs to the same political party with one of them. It has been shown plainly enough, I should think, as to how Cowles hasn't kept his contract. Well, it will expire this spring after 4,000 cords have been delivered. They might better return to the old way then."

Reciprocity Demanded.

Thursday afternoon marked a new era in the Evening Press office. The "street cleaning brigade" was turned loose upon the city. The office was in a state of enthusiastic hilarity. The poetry editor was given half a day off in honor of the event, and the man that writes the beautiful legends, "If it ought to be printed you'll find it in the Press," was granted permission to run up to Sweet's hotel and play a game of bridge pool.

Saturday the managing editor paused for a moment in his arduous duty of lifting telegraph dates, attempted to glance out of the window, and then rushed into the business office.

"Heigh, there!" he said excitedly. "Has our street cleaning brigade finished scraping the cross walk in front of THE HERALD office?"

"It has," responded the business manager.

"Then, for God's sake, telephone THE HERALD to send a man down here to clean our windows."

Musical Concert.

The Conservatory of Music of the Western Michigan college will give its inaugural concert this evening in the college chapel, to which everybody is cordially invited. This will be a rare opportunity for lovers of music to hear the conservatory orchestra, directed by the conservatory, in some of its famous compositions. Suitable addresses will be given by prominent speakers of the city, including the Rev. J. L. Jackson, the Hon. S. Wessellus and President Daniel Fulcomer.

Eleventh Ward Republican Club.

The Eleventh Ward Republican club held a meeting last night and arranged to hold the ward caucus Thursday evening, March 23, in Houseman hall, corner of Hall street and Madison avenue. The election of delegates and nomination of candidates for ward offices will be made by ballot and the voting will be by ballot. It was also decided that no delegate slate shall be prepared previous to the caucus, leaving every one free to vote for whom he chooses. The annual meeting of the club will be held two weeks from last night, at which officers for the coming year will be elected.

Struck By an Electric Car.

Last evening at 6:30 a South Division and Plainfield avenue electric car ran into the rear of Dr. McKay's car, carrying at the corner of Newberry and Ottawa streets and smashed it into kindling wood. The doctor was thrown out and his scalp was cut open, but he was not seriously injured. He was driving on the track and was run down before he could get out of the way of the approaching car. The car was in charge of Conductor Pat O'Hearn and Motorman L. Cole. The doctor places his damage at $100.

On the Up Grade.

The order of United Carpenters is prospering beyond the greatest hopes of its founders. Last night there was a large attendance and fifteen new members were initiated into the order. It has been decided to rent the Lincoln club hall, and with such large and commodious quarters it is expected that every reputable carpenter in the city will join the order.

Gave a Pleasant Hop.

A pleasant dancing party was held last night in the rooms of Columbia college in the McMillan block. About 150 people and friends of the college were present and enjoyed the evening thoroughly. The rooms occupied by the college, which were damaged by fire a few weeks ago, have been repaired and are again in running order.

Fell Upon His Head.

Patrick Roche, a machinist, living at No. 400 Broadway and engaged at the Harrison wagon works, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon by the falling of a wagon chain, which struck him on the head, inflicting an ugly, jagged wound. He was taken to his home in an unconscious condition. Dr. Spencer and Dr. Graves were called and the wounded man later on was resting quite comfortably, but he cannot live. Mr. Roche is the father of Johnnie Roche, the lightweight pugilist, who was to have fought Jack Minton at Cadillac last night. The fight will be postponed.

"RIN" BARKER'S INVESTMENT.

He is Buying Pine Land Now, But He Wouldn't Own It.

"Rin" Barker, the brilliant editor of the Grand City Clarion, was in the city yesterday on his way home from Mobile, where he has purchased 100 acres of pine land. In 1896 Mr. Barker came from St. Johns to Grand Rapids in company with his father. He had 2,000 hand iron dollars in his inside pocket, and proceeded to Cedar Springs, the then northern terminus of the G. R. & I. railroad. "Rin" started out with a camera and took tin-type photographs of the unsuspecting Indians at the rate of $1 a picture. The photographs to be taken were of the Indians in the pine land government land was selling for $1.25 an acre, and D. A. Blodgett, R. A. Alger and David McCoy were making investments. Mr. Barker decided that there wasn't money enough in pine land, so he bought a newspaper. Blodgett, Alger and McCoy now count their dollars by the wagon load. Mr. Barker is still running a newspaper, but is postmaster also, and swears he won't give up the office until he has to. However, he has decided that he made a slight mistake in regard to the value of pine land and has begun to make investments in it. In a few years he will probably be in condition to spend his office hours clipping coupons and if there are any subscribers to the Clarion who have not paid up, he will send them the paper a year for nothing just to show 'em how blamed mean they were when a dollar and a half meant something to him.

River Ice Giving Way.

Present indications indicate that the ice in the river above the dam will soon go over if the present mild weather continues. All day yesterday great cakes of rotten looking ice would become shifted out over the edge of the dam and would finally topple over. Farther up, however, the ice is still a foot thick and comparatively solid in the center. The water has risen about four feet during the past three days, but danger is anticipated should there be a breaking up of the ice at this stage.

Mr. Hanson Is In It.

"Yes, I'm a candidate for judge of the superior court," said James W. Hanson yesterday. "I know they claim that Judge Burlingame can get many republican votes, but I know of no reason why I could not get as many. I count upon getting the full strength of my own party if nominated, and that's more than a good many candidates do."

Making Final Investigation.

A committee of the subscribers of the stock of the large new enterprise which has been organized by the board of trade will go south Monday afternoon to take an inventory and look over the affairs of the business preparatory to closing the deal.

Shipping to Chicago.

"We are busy getting our goods to Chicago for the new hotel," said J. G. MacBride of Nelson, Matter & Co. yesterday. "Probably some $200,000 worth of furniture will go from Grand Rapids factories to Chicago within the next thirty days."

Under the Snow.

Out from our midst has the sufferer gone. The days of our nursing and watching is done. Sad are the hearts of his loved ones today. Grieving and sore for the once that's away. For we must miss him wherever we turn; Loving hearts ever for lost ones must yearn; He has never so tender and true; Loving so faithfully all his life through. Under the snow where violets spring, Under the trees where the wild birds sing, The head of our darling is lying low, Under the snow.

We tenderly bore him away to his rest, Feeling assured that his spirit was blest; That it is soaring above us today; Free from all sorrow and burden of clay; Free from all sickness and mourning and tears. Free from all labor and care and all fears; Trusting him safe in the care of his God, Cherishing now we pass "under the red." Under the snow where violets spring, Under the trees where the wild birds sing, The only clay that is lying low, Under the snow.

State News in Brief.

S. Delano, a passenger on the Erie limited, suddenly pulled a revolver on the train crew passing through Battle Creek Thursday and fired three shots at Herbert Pember, a brakeman. The man was finally disarmed and locked up. He awoke from a drunken sleep imagining that he was being robbed. Pember was shot through the neck, but will recover.

While a Jackson Jeweler Went to Dinner the Other Day he Locked his Store.

When he returned his store was still locked, and it was only when a customer came in that he discovered somebody had stolen twenty-five watches in his absence, valued at $300.

Billy M. Buck of the firm of M. J. & B. M. Buck, furniture dealers, and Miss Edith VanAlstine, daughter of George G. VanAlstine, well-known republican politician of Lansing, were married last evening at the residence of the bride's parents.

The line of boats, Minnie M. Lora and Gullfreak, running between St. Joseph and Milwaukee, and Chicago in connection with the Vandavia railway line, will be abandoned during the summer season.

The women of Detroit are going to fight at the coming school election. They are making a house to house canvass, have appointed ward committees and propose to elect their ticket.

The people's party convention at Bay City nominated M. J. Bailey for mayor, Lansing; Danieil Thompson for treasurer; James McFarlane for comptroller; Robert McKim for justice.
